

Monitoring and Impact Analyses

EAS monitors, analyses and evaluates the impact of existing and evolving regulations to inform our clients' business strategies.

This tailored service keeps your marketing and regulatory teams ahead of the issues impacting future business development.

Whether it is the product sector, certain ingredients, emerging developments or any other regulatory issues creating pressures on your business, we deliver fast, up-to-date information, expert advice and results, through:

Clear information and analysis of developments according to your needs

An assessment of likely scenarios for changes in legislation and policy

Impact analyses of existing and emerging regulation on business strategies

Strategic advice on reducing risk exposure to unfavourable developments
